

At Mary's school

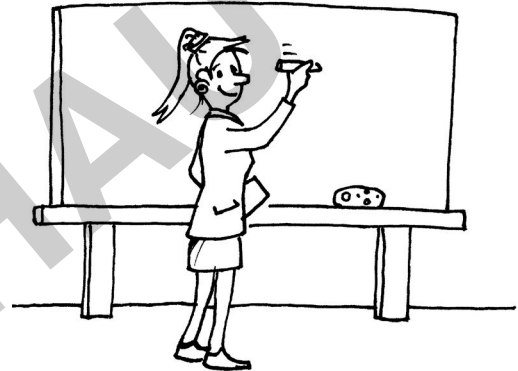

Mary is a teacher.
In the morning she is at school.

In her classroom there are many girls and boys.
Mary says "pupils".
They sit at the desks.
Under the desk they put their schoolbag.

Many schoolthings are in a schoolbag:
books, exercise-books, and a pencil-case.
In the pencil-case there are pencils, a pen, a ruler, and a rubber.

They do a lot of things at school.
Mary sings with the class on Monday.

In the wardrobe

I love my basket.
But I love the wardrobe, too.

In the wardrobe there are so many clothes and they all smell like Rick and Mary.

Mary has got three dresses for summer.
They are green, violet, and yellow.
She has got an orange skirt,
and blue, yellow, black, and pink blouses.
She wears an old brown jacket.
Her jeans are black, blue, and red.

Sometimes she puts on a dress and asks me:
“What do you think? Am I fat?”
What does it matter? You are in it.

Rick has got blue, brown, black, and grey trousers.
His coat is black, too.
So is his hat.
He has got five t-shirts in white, black, grey, blue, and orange,
four shirts: in blue, purple, and two in black.
His five pullovers are green, blue, black, yellow, and purple.
Rick likes baseball caps and sunglasses.

I like the boxes on the floor.
They are full of shoes and boots –
... very tasty after lunch!

smell – riechen
tasty – lecker
lunch – das Mittagessen
