Minimalplan

Der Minimalplan konzentriert sich auf die wichtigsten Aspekte hinsichtlich konkreter Textarbeit mit dem Roman. Das Oberthema „Nigeria“ steht vorerst im Hintergrund. In diesem Fall entfallen die Hintergrundinformationen zur Autorin und den soziokulturellen Gegebenheiten (M 1–M 5). Die Schüler fokussieren auf die beiden Protagonisten des Romans sowie deren character traits and relationships. Anschließend werden die wesentlichen sozialen Beziehungen visualisiert und analysiert. Abschließend setzen sich die Lernenden mit den unterschiedlichen Erzählperspektiven sowie deren Funktionen auseinander.

Material	Didaktisch-methodische Hinweise
M 6	Die Schüler lesen unterschiedliche Textstellen bzgl. der Protagonisten und extrahieren wichtige Informationen zu deren Charakteren. Anschließend werden die wichtigsten Informationen mithilfe eines character posters visualisiert.
M 7	Anhand eines sociograms erarbeiten die Schüler die unterschiedlichen Beziehungen zwischen den einzelnen Charakteren sowie deren Interdependenzen und Wechselwirkungen. Die Methode baut unmittelbar auf den zuvor angefertigten Charakterpostern auf und vertieft die Analyse der Ganzschrift.
M 8	Im Rahmen von Einfühlungsaufgaben im interkulturellen und transkulturellen Literaturunterricht soll eine weitere Annäherung an die Charaktere des Romans erfolgen. Dies geschieht besonders durch die vertiefte Betrachtung der jeweiligen Erzählperspektiven.

Nigeria in a WORDLE – getting to know a country

M 1

Tasks

1. Have a close look at the WORDLE and make a list of words you know or words you do not know. Look them up online/in a dictionary and create a word/vocabulary list in your folder.
  2. Work with a partner. Discuss why certain words appear larger than others.
  3. Use between 10 and 15 words of the WORDLE and write a short introductory text to our new topic “Nigeria”. Compare your text with a partner’s and check language, style and content.

Word cloud: Dirk Beyer

Focus on method: Do you want to make your own WORDLE?

Choose a text you would like to turn into a WORDLE.

Use www.wortwolken.com and upload your text (doc, pdf etc.).

Change the number of words/size of your WORDLE as well as colours.

Change your WORLDE into a picture file and copy the file.

M 4*Two sides of Nigeria – a country of inequality

Abike and Emeka ("her hawker") both live in the city of Lagos, but they have grown up in two totally different worlds. "Nothing is free in Lagos", Mr T. (p. 60)

	Abike's world	Emeka's world
 Focus on film
 Focus on facts	Nigeria's (economic) inequality has reached severe levels and is the largest on the African continent. Nigeria's five richest men have a combined wealth of $29.9 billion contrasting with more than 5 million people who suffer from famine. In addition to this, about $20 trillion were stolen from the treasury by public office holder between the years 1960 and 2005. Due to the fact that Nigeria only spends a very small amount of money on public schools and education, approximately 20% of Nigeria's young adults are unemployed (2016). Based on: Nigeria: extreme inequality in numbers. Oxfam International; found at: https://www.oxfam.org/en/nigeria-extreme-inequality-numbers [last access: 09/07/2020].
 Focus on novel	"I showed him parts of the house and, to his credit, he appeared only mildly impressed. The gym, the tennis courts, even the indoor swimming pool, none could get a reaction more overstated than 'You have a really nice house, Abike.'" (p. 67) "As we drove up to her house, I wondered what type of wealth it would take to make such an oasis, green grass watered by sprinklers while half of Lagos had no running water." (p. 71)	"As I turned into my street I was disgusted by the ugliness that even moonlight could not soften. The rubbish heaps that looked like burial mounds; the candlelit house from that shed light on scenes made uglier by the flickering jaundiced glow cast on them: melon-bellied children chasing a lame dog with sticks, a man squatting in the shadows, showing solidarity by shitting pellets into his neighbour's compound. [...] We hear gunshots, we cower and the next day we thank God it wasn't us. There's no talk of calling the police. We're not their type." (p. 54)

Tasks:

1. Use the QR-Codes (or use links) to watch both videos on the "two sides" of Nigeria.
2. Take notes on the characteristics of Nigeria's economic inequality and add information from the "focus on facts" part to your list.
3. Compare and contrast Abike's high standards of living with Emeka's description of his neighbourhood.
4. Analyse the effect of the narrative perspective(s) in these two extracts.
5. Discuss in small groups how the first 11 chapters of The Spider King's Daughter represent Nigeria's recent economic and social inequalities.

M 6*Getting to know the characters – character posters

Character posters (“roles on the wall”) are a useful method to collect important information on a character. They give information on a character’s outward appearance, family, character traits as well as behaviour and relationships to other characters.

Tasks:

1. Skim through the pages and extracts mentioned.
2. Briefly outline Nigeria's problem or/and challenge described in the extracts.
3. Match the extracts with the correct challenge/problem by drawing a line between them.
4. Compare results with a partner/in small groups and discuss possible solutions to each problem.
5. Expert task: Compare and contrast Nigeria's problems with problems and challenges in Germany. Are there mainly similarities or differences?

M 10*Nigeria's economy and oil industry*Station 1: Shell Petroleum Development Company in Nigeria (group work)

Shell companies in Nigeria have emerged winner in the best 100 companies to work for in the latest Jobberman 2019 Report released in Lagos on Thursday. Shell led the pack of top 100 companies that respondents admire, respect and desire to work for the most. [...] Shell Nigeria Human Resources Director, Olukayode Ogunleye, said “The award confirms that working at Shell enables talents to innovate and fulfil their aspirations while supporting Shell to meet its obligations to its stakeholders – government, investors and people of our host communities across the country.” [...] “We recognise that being an industry leader puts on us enormous responsibility and we have continued to rethink and reshape our employee value proposition in a manner that our delivery brings optimal value to Nigeria, our partners and the local service industry”, he said. Ogunleye noted that apart from the energy produced by Shell companies and the revenue they generated for the government, the companies remained at the forefront of indigenising industry skills and capabilities while growing Nigerian companies to provide key services in-country.” The Jobberman 2019 Report stated, “It is vital for employers to understand that employee satisfaction is a major factor that can help determine the organisation’s overall wellbeing; thus rigorous strategies to ensure , measure, track and improve employee satisfaction should always be held in high regards.”

Influence of corruption on the Hawker

Hinweise (M 11; 19./20. Stunde)

Der Einfluss von Korruption stellt eine der drängendsten Herausforderungen Nigerias dar. Obwohl das Land gigantische Ölreserven aufweist und eine aufstrebende Film- und Computerindustrie besitzt, leben immer noch viele Menschen in Armut und ohne ausreichende Infrastruktur. Derzeit (Stand März 2020) leben dort schätzungsweise 200 Millionen Menschen, von denen etwa 87 Millionen mit weniger als 2$ pro Tag auskommen müssen. Korrupte Geschäfte finden sich in allen möglichen Positionen und werden hauptsächlich von führenden Eliten systematisch betrieben:
