

- 23 This big cat has brown fur, but look: There are no “spots” but rings or roses on their fur. And these big cats are not that fast!
- 24 This is the brown bear enclosure in the west of the zoo. It’s the wrong enclosure.
- 25 The last animal for today is the bird-eating spider. It’s a fascinating animal, but also a little scary. David hates spiders. That’s why the boys want to go to the souvenir shop right next to the terrarium.
- 26 This is a chimpanzee. Chimpanzees are not as big as the monkeys the boys want to go to.

- 21) Tigers have four legs, a tail and black stripes as well. So far so good. But their fur is brown, not white. This is not the correct animal.
- 22) Back at the elephant enclosure the boys have to make their way through a big crowd. Close to the fences some zookeepers have placed baskets with carrots, cucumbers and apples. The elephants always wait until they have two things in their trunk and then put their trunk in their mouth to eat the food. This way they always have their forks with them. It's so much fun to watch them! But it's 12.15 a.m. now. Mike says that they have to go to an animal that is very much like the boys: The monkeys! The one they want to go to is very big and has black fur. The tall male ones are called silverbacks.

- 24) This is the brown bear enclosure in the west of the zoo. As its name says, the brown bear is brown. We're looking for a white bear. It's the wrong enclosure.
- 25) The last animal for today is the bird-eating-spider. It's a fascinating animal, but also a little scary. David hates spiders and can't look at them for too long. That's why the boys decide to go to the souvenir shop right next to the terrarium.

If you want to know, what Mike's favourite animal is, read the bold letters in the text.

- 26) This is a chimpanzee. Chimpanzees are not as big as the monkeys the boys want to go to. Think again.
