Literatur – Novels

Born a Crime: Stories from a South African Childhood* – Romanarbeit zum Leben unter und nach dem Apartheidregime (S II)

Anne-Kathrin Weisbrod, Berlin

© RAABE 2021

Heute ist Trevor Noah als Moderator der U.S. Polit-Satire Sendung „The Daily Show“ weltbekannt. Doch das Leben des Comedians war nicht immer so glamourös. Es begann mit einer Straftat – seiner Geburt. Trevor Noah wurde in Südafrika zu einer Zeit geboren, als die Beziehung seiner Eltern – einer schwarzen Mutter und eines weißen Schweizer Vaters – mit bis zu fünf Jahren Gefängnis bestraft wurde. Trevor Noah setzt sich in seinem autobiografischen Roman auf humorvolle und anschauliche Weise mit seiner Kindheit unter dem Apartheidsregime und mit seiner Jugend in einem sich neu findenden Südafrika auseinander. Die Lernenden erhalten durch seine Schilderungen Zugang zu Themen wie „racism“, „individuality“ und „multicultural society“.

- While-viewing activity: Watch the short video clip Apartheid: The rise and fall of South Africa's 'apartness' laws (2x) and answer the questions below.

https://raabe.click/en\_Apartheid-laws [last access: 25/03/2021]

- When did apartheid officially end and what event marks its end?
  - What does apartheid mean (as a word and as a practice)?
  - Who introduced the system of apartheid and when?
  - Give examples of areas of life that were affected by the “race laws”.
  - What was the purpose/intention connected with the “race laws”?
  - Which were the four ethnic categories?
  - What was the so-called “pencil test”?
  - What kinds of measures were taken by the South African government to prevent/suppress protest against the system of apartheid?
  - Who was Nelson Mandela?
  - Which circumstances supported the gradual end of the apartheid regime?
- Post-viewing activity: Use the information from the video clip to write a short speech (300 words) in which you criticise apartheid. You may use online sources as well.

Languages in South Africa

M 4

Tasks

1. Have a look at the pie chart and explain how it connects back to Trevor's use of languages.

Data source: news24.com

2. After the fall of apartheid, South Africa introduced the “11 official language policy”. Watch the “TEDx Talk” and answer the questions below.
https://raabe.click/en\_LanguagePolicy [last access: 25/03/2021]

a) Why is South Africa often called “the rainbow nation” and which national symbol reflects this notion?

b) How many different languages are spoken in South Africa?

c) What happened to indigenous African languages as well as their native speakers under the rule of apartheid?

d) Which two languages were the official languages under apartheid although they were only spoken by a minority of the people?

e) With regard to language, what was revolutionary about the South African constitution drafted in 1996 by Nelson Mandela?

f) The speaker believes that the South African government has done everything to implement their language policy for the betterment of the entire nation: true or false?

g) According to the speaker, in which area of life, does the insufficient implementation of language policy show most clearly? Which example does he give?

h) Which solutions to the problem are suggested?

i) Why does the graph displayed during the speech show that the South African government has not lived up to their promise of upholding all eleven languages equally?

j) What might be the social consequence of an unsuccessful language policy?

3. Prepare and record a short 1-minute speech on the following topic:
“The role of language in South Africa – How does Trevor Noah use language in order to navigate South African society?”

The role of assimilation and integration

M 6

Tasks

1. Use the prompts below to create a more elaborate mind map in which you show how Trevor Noah copes with South Africa's multicultural society.

2. a) Prepare for a discussion: Collect ideas on how to make a multicultural society work. Consider how the following three parties need to act/behave/interact/perceive etc. You can use South Africa as an example.

The parties are: a. the individual; b. society as a whole; c. the government.

- b) Hold the discussion.

3. Watch the video clip which features a TIME MAGAZINE interview with the South African president Cyril Ramaphosa and answer the questions below.

https://raabe.click/en\_CyrilRamaphosa-interview [last access: 25/03/2021]

- a) What does Ramaphosa say about inequality in South Africa?
- b) What does he identify as Nelson Mandela's legacy and why is Mandela's legacy important?
- c) What was the "original sin" committed against the people of South Africa and how does the government try to cope with it?

4. Write an e-mail from Trevor Noah to Cyril Ramaphosa. Based on Trevor's own experiences with inequality, injustice and cultural barriers within South African society, he writes an e-mail to the president in which he gives an account of his and his family's own experiences and makes suggestions for a better future in a new South Africa.

The role of perspectives

M 7

Tasks

1. Look at the comic of the well-known fairy tale Little Red Riding Hood. Briefly tell the story of the girl starting with "Once upon a time there was a little girl. Everybody called her Little Red Riding Hood ...".
2. Now, change the narrative perspective and write the story from either the wolf's or the hunter's perspective. Before you start, briefly define the parameters of your perspective.

3. Present your story to the class.
4. Explain how the choice of perspective is important for a story.
5. Coming back to Trevor Noah's autobiography, re-read the chapter Colorblind and rewrite the chapter from the head of mall security's point of view.
  - a) Define from which perspective it is written and discuss with your neighbour what impact this might have on the story.
  - b) Highlight the bits of information provided in the chapter which you will need if you rewrite the passage from the new point of view.
  - c) Rewrite the chapter (300–400 words).

IMPORTANT: You do not need to include every detail of the original text!
