Vorwort

Liebe Kolleginnen und Kollegen

der Name des Werkes lässt schon erkennen – mit diesem Band haben Sie eine Sammlung von Aufgaben an der Hand, die Themen/Schwerpunkte der ersten beiden Sekundarjahre in Englisch aufgreifen bzw. ergänzen. Die Aufgaben sind dabei in 5 Kategorien unterteilt (Grammar – Vocabulary – Reading/Writing – Speaking/Writing – Let's play together).

Jede Kategorie und Einheit bietet inhaltsreiche, kompetenz-orientierte Zusatzangebote für Schüler, die aufgrund ihres Abwechslungsreichtums motivieren. Dank des detaillierten Lösungsteils steht einer eigenverantwortlichen Selbstkontrolle nichts im Wege.

Die zunehmende Heterogenität in den Klassen fordert uns täglich heraus. Manche Schüler/innen sind mit ihren Aufgaben schneller fertig als andere, manche haben Lücken im Lehrstoff, andere wiederum machen auch gerne zu Hause freiwillig zusätzliche Arbeiten.

Oft sind Aufgaben für zuhause in den Ferien oder das Wochenende gewünscht oder angebracht. In Phasen von Fernunterricht sind sie eine große Hilfe für Lehrpersonal, Schüler und Eltern. Die Spiele aus der Rubrik „Let's play together“ laden zum (nebenbei lehrreichen) Spiel in/mit der Familie ein. Gleichzeitig können sie jederzeit auch in Lern- oder Übungstheken, in Lernzirkeln, zur Differenzierung oder in Vertretungsstunden eingesetzt werden.

Auf jeden Fall garantiert dieses Werk mit dieser Vielfalt Spaß, Motivation und Erfolg.
Dies wünschen Ihnen der Kohl-Verlag und

The s-genitive

Den s-Genitiv benutzt du bei Personen oder Tieren, jedoch nicht bei Dingen. Im Englischen wird das Genitiv-s immer mit einem Apostroph ' angehängt.

1. Steht die Person oder das Tier im Singular (Einzahl), wird 's' angehängt.
(Tom's trousers are blue.)
2. Handelt es sich um mehrere Personen oder Tiere (Plural), wird die Pluralform gebildet, indem du ein s an das Wort hängst. Dahinter folgt nur ein Apostroph '.
(The boys' teacher is cool. The giraffes' necks are long.)
3. Wird die Pluralform unregelmäßig gebildet, wird 's' angehängt:
(The children's school uniform is blue and grey.)

1. Who owns what? Trace the lines.

Example: The baker's bread.

2 Simple Past (Aussage und Verneinung)

Das Simple Past ist eine Zeitform und wird im Deutschen einfache Vergangenheit (oder lateinisch Präteritum) genannt. Sie liegt vor der Gegenwart.

Mit dem Simple Past drückst du also Handlungen aus, die in der Vergangenheit stattfanden, also abgeschlossen sind.

Bei regelmäßigen Verben wird im Simple Past -ed angehängt, z. B. watch – watched, play – played.

Die Vergangenheit der unregelmäßigen Verben musst du lernen (!). z. B. go – went, have – had, write – wrote (Du findest die Verben in der Tabelle in deinem Buch).

In der Verneinung (negatives) steht das Verb in der Grundform, nur das Hilfsverb do erhält die Vergangenheitsform (= did not = didn't).

Signalwörter:

Immer wenn dir diese Wörter begegnen, musst du das Simple Past verwenden: yesterday, last.... (last Sunday, last week, last month, last summer,...), ....ago (a week ago, two hours ago,...).

Happy Halloween

Many people like Halloween. Many don't. I don't like it either.

There live a lot of American soldiers with their families in my hometown. Most of them like Halloween because this tradition was first known as an American festivity. However, it has its origin in Ireland. So they decorate their gardens and homes with pumpkins, scary figures and other frightful things. A glowing pumpkin in front of a house is called „Jack O'Lantern“.

In the years before the end of the 20th century Halloween was exported from the USA to the rest of the world. In more and more countries all over the world you can see pumpkins and creepily dressed children at the end of October. Halloween („All Hallows' Eve“) takes place on October, 31st.

Other features you may know of Halloween are witch hats or witch brooms, spiders and cobwebs, bats, vampire teeth, blood, crypts, skulls, black cats, dark colours such as black and blood red, but also orange. There are no limits to the imagination of the disguises. On Halloween children go from house to house and say „Trick or treat!“. That means they want sweets from the neighbours. If the children don't get sweets from them, they will play a prank on the neighbours.

2. Talk about the text to a partner. You can summarize in German.

3. Answer the questions on the text.

Where does Halloween originally come from?

What's the name of a glowing pumpkin in front of the house?

When do people celebrate Halloween?

What does "Trick or treat!" mean?

4. Halloween words. Find the German words. Look them up in a dictionary.

witch broom
spiders
cobweb
blood
bats
vampire teeth

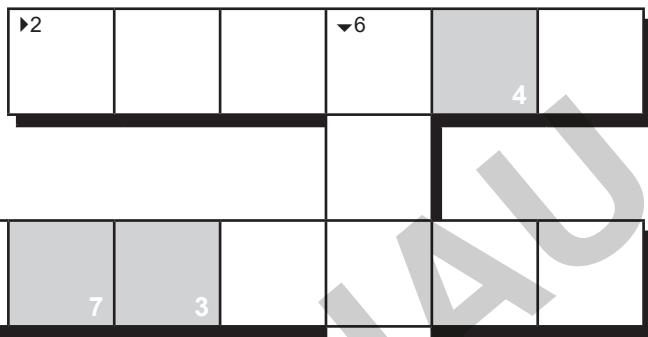

witch
skull
ghost
black cat
pumpkins

5. Crossword. Find the words. You'll get to know the name of the narrator's hometown.
