

1. I'm going to learn all night.

Setze die Sätze in das going to future. Du benötigst am, is oder are + going to + Infinitiv.

Example: Michelle's boss Will is going to fly to Spain next summer. (to be + going to + fly)

- Thomas and Charly _____ the final on TV. (to be + going to + watch)
- Lisa's new teacher Mrs. Brown _____ at the homework in the next lesson. (to be + going to + look)
- Cat Lindsay _____ the crazy mouse today. (to be + going to + catch)
- I _____ my parents with a chocolate cake on Sunday. (to be + going to + surprise)

2. Are you going to buy a zebra?

Vervollständige die Fragen im going to future. Die Antworten helfen dir.

Example: *Is Charlie going to feed the zebra every day?
– Yes, Charly is going to feed the zebra every day.*

- _____ you _____ the zebra? – No, I'm not going to ride the zebra.
- _____ you _____ zebra food? – Yes, we're going to buy zebra food.
- _____ Bill _____ with the zebra? – No, Bill isn't going to play football with the zebra.
- _____ the Webbers _____ to the zebra? – Yes, the Webbers are going to be nice to the zebra.

3. I'm not going to buy a giraffe!

Die grau markierten Wörter sind falsch. Benutze das going to future und die Verneinung.

Example:

I'm going to buy a giraffe. No! I'm not going to buy a giraffe. I'm going to buy a zebra.

- Michelle is going to call the zebra Lynette. No! She _____ the zebra Lynette. She is going to call the zebra Danielle.
- Lisa and Charly are going to teach the zebra Russian. No! They _____ the zebra Russian. They are going to teach the zebra funny tricks.
- Donald is going to be nice to the zebra. No! He _____ nice to the zebra. He is going to be rude to the zebra.

1. I'm going to learn all night.

Use the words to write sentences in the going to future. You need am, is or are + going to + the infinitive form of the verb.

Example: fly – Michelle's boss Will – next summer – to Spain
Michelle's boss Will is going to fly to Spain next summer.

a. on TV – the final – Thomas and Charly – watch

b. look – Lisa's new teacher Mrs. Brown – at the homework – in the next lesson

c. catch – cat Lindsay – the crazy mouse – today

d. with a chocolate cake – surprise – I – my parents – on Sunday

e. a great party – we – have – tonight

2. Are you going to buy a zebra?

Write the questions to the answers in your exercise book. Use the going to future.

Example: Is Charlie going to feed the zebra every day?
– Yes, Charly is going to feed the zebra every day.

- a. ? – No, I'm not going to ride the zebra.
- b. ? – Yes, we're going to buy zebra food.
- c. ? – No, Bill isn't going to play football with the zebra.
- d. ? – Yes, the Webbers are going to be nice to the zebra.

3. I'm not going to buy a giraffe!

The words marked in grey are wrong. Form a negative sentence and correct the statement. Write your results in your exercise book.

Example:

I'm going to buy a giraffe. (zebra) – No! I'm not going to buy a giraffe. I'm going to buy a zebra.

- a. Michelle is going to call the zebra Lynette. (Danielle)
- b. Lisa and Charly are going to teach the zebra Russian. (funny tricks)
- c. Donald is going to be nice to the zebra. (rude)
- d. I'm going to build a zebra bed. (buy)