2. Susan kocht für uns heute Abend indisches Essen.

I'd like a .../I'd like to ...

We use would like + noun to say what we want to have. After a personal pronoun we often use the short form 'd like.

Example: I'd like a strawberry milkshake, please.

We use would like to + verb to say what we want to do.

Example: I'd like to lie down and rest for half an hour or so.

We use questions to offer something to somebody or to make suggestions (Vorschläge machen).

Examples: Would you like something to eat?

Would you like to watch a video film?

Task 1

Highlight or underline the correct words.

1. Tom and his sister would like new bikes – have new bikes.
2. Pam would like to have a birthday party – a birthday party.
3. The girls would like to a brother – have a brother.
