

A terrible holiday!

Task 1

Read the text. Look up any words you don't understand in an English-German dictionary.

Dora McDermot:

“Our first holiday in Spain was a catastrophe! We missed our flight at Manchester Airport and the next plane to Marbella was four hours later. We landed in Marbella very late at night. There was only one taxi at the airport. The driver wanted a lot of money for the journey to town. Dad was angry, but we gave the man the money and took the taxi. He drove us to the Hotel Casanova. It was a wonderful hotel with a big swimming pool. We were hungry and the food in the restaurant smelled wonderful. But there was a little problem. They didn't know us and they didn't have a room for us. Now Dad was really angry and he shouted. Mum opened her bag and looked for our travel information. They were right. We were in the Hotel Carcinoma behind the station. We walked there because we didn't have the money for another taxi. An old man opened the door and showed us our rooms. There wasn't a restaurant, but the beds were fine and we were more tired than hungry.”
