From the Cold War to the Fall of the Berlin Wall

The Vietnam War – Colonialism, Cold War and Concessions

Nach einer Idee von Dr. Ingeborg Braisch

Während eines Machtvakuum nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg rief Ho Chi Minh die Demokratische Republik Vietnam aus und damit auch das Ende der französischen Kolonialherrschaft. Aus dem anschließenden Krieg gegen die Rekolonisierung durch Frankreich wurde alsbald ein langer und verlustreicher Stellvertreterkrieg gegen die Vereinigten Staaten. Am Vietnamkrieg zeigt sich die folgenreiche Symbolpolitik des Kalten Krieges in besonders tragischer Weise.

Have no Fear of Escalation – The War Under Johnson

M 6

In November 1963, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson takes the place of the assassinated President Kennedy. One year later, he is officially reelected. Regarding Vietnam, he upholds the policies of his predecessors. Important waymarks are the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution of 1964, the use of American infantry after 1965, the heavy bombardment of North Vietnam, and the My Lai Massacre. During his presidency, many anti-war protests took place in the US and around the world.

Tasks

1. Listen to the protest song "Lyndon B. Johnson Told the Nation" (by Tom Paxton, 1965): <https://raabe.click/Vietnamkrieg-SongLyndonBJohnson>. Focus on the lyrics.
2. Read the letters. Summarize, how their authors think about the Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. What consequence might arise from such a view?
3. Compare the two statements to the Vietnamese postage stamp. How do they contradict each other?
4. Read Ho Chi Minh's letter to President Johnson. Summarize his complaints and give your opinion on them.
5. Research the "My Lai Massacre" online and write a newspaper article about it. Optional: choose a specific perspective for your article, e. g. an American pro-Johnson newspaper, an American anti-war newspaper, or a Northern Vietnamese newspaper.

Two Letters from American Soldiers in Vietnam

Sergeant Paul Kelly to his mother, July 15, 1969:

We went to some villages and searched for VC or weapons. All we found were some tools. We took them from the dinks. I still can't believe how these people live. They're just like animals. They live way out in the middle of nowhere. There isn't even a road for miles. It's all just unused rice paddies. Their homes are made of grass and mud. They crouch down to eat their little bowl of rice and I don't know what else but it smells like dead dog. They don't mind the flies all over their food. When they go to the bathroom they just do it where they may be ... [Kelly talks about an impressive system of tunnels into which the Americans throw hand grenades or TNT] They can dig miles of tunnel but there is no dirt to be found anywhere. They must eat it. Some of these people are treacherous. They say "GI number one" when we're in their village, but at night the dirty little rats are VC.

Corporal Cameron MacDonald to his mother, January 13, 1969:

[While on patrol, Cameron and his men come across a large stash of weapons, some of them clearly recognizable as Soviet guns. They are waiting for a helicopter to collect the troops and the weapons.]

There were only 30 of us and we were afraid the gooks might try to overrun the place to get all that stuff back. The probed our lines every night with Chicom grenades, and kept everyone on his toes.

Claim against claim

- In 1965, journalist Robert Shaplen visits the American aircraft carrier "Ranger" off the Vietnamese coast. His colleague notes: "They just ought to show this ship to the Vietcong – that would make them give up."
- On May 19, 1967, US foreign minister McNamara describes North Vietnam as "a tiny backward nation".

Letter from Ho Chi Minh to President Johnson, February 15, 1967

"On February 10, 1967, I received your message. This is my reply. Vietnam is thousands of miles away from the United States. The Vietnamese people have never done any harm to the United States. But contrary to the pledges made by its representative at the 1954 Geneva conference, the U.S. has ceaselessly intervened in Vietnam, it has unleashed and intensified the war of aggression in North Vietnam with a view to prolonging the partition of Vietnam and turning South Vietnam into a neocolony and a military base of the United States. For over two years now, the U.S. government has, with its air and naval forces, carried the war to the Democratic Republic of (North) Vietnam, an independent and sovereign country. The U.S. government has committed war crimes, crimes against peace and against mankind. In South Vietnam, half a million U.S. and satellite troops have resorted to the most inhuman weapons and most barbarous methods of warfare, such as napalm, toxic chemicals and gases, to massacre our compatriots, destroy crops, and raze villages to the ground. In North Vietnam, thousands of U.S. aircraft have dropped hundreds of thousands of tons of bombs, destroying towns, villages, factories, schools. In your message, you apparently deplore the sufferings and destruction in Vietnam. May I ask you: Who has perpetrated these monstrous crimes? It is the United States and satellite troops. The U.S. government is entirely responsible for the extremely serious situation in Vietnam. The U.S. war of aggression against the Vietnamese people constitutes a challenge to the countries of the socialist camp, a threat to the national independence movement, and a serious danger to peace in Asia and the world."
