Inhalt: Dieser Radiobeitrag von Reporterin Katia Riddle behandelt das Anliegen einer indianischen Stammesgruppe aus dem Raum Seattle. Diese bemüht sich seit Jahren darum, vom Staat als eigenständiger Stamm anerkannt zu werden und geht hierbei auch neue Wege. Die offizielle Anerkennung als indigener Stamm ist in den USA mit staatlicher Unterstützung verbunden, die unter anderem einen besseren Zugang zu Bildung und medizinischer Versorgung bietet.

b) The icons: Which icon(s) would you click on if you had the following questions:

- A How can you travel to or within a reservation?
- B What can be done to improve job possibilities for our tribal members?
- C Is it possible to introduce a new animal species on our reservation?
- D Is building a dam in a canyon possible to give the tribe better access to water?
- E Are we obliged to accept Indians from other tribes on our land?
- F Where are the borders of the reservation?
- G What support is there for tribal members with drug problems?
- H Does our tribe offer sufficient health care for its members?
- I How can we increase the profits we make on our reservation?
- J Who can help if there is a shortage of water?

c) Discussing icons

Which icon on the list is perhaps the least fitting? Why? Come up with alternatives.

d) Finding categories

What bigger issues on reservations relate to the icons referring to a specific topic? Find categories for them. For example, "Workforce Planning and Coordination" and "Workforce Development" belong to the same category: "people working for a tribe."

c) The heart symbol stands for both Indian Gaming and Budget & Performance. Unless you are very fond of money, the symbol does not make much sense. More specific symbols would have surely been more user-friendly. Maybe a slot machine for Indian Gaming and a rising line graph for Budget & Performance would be more helpful.
